SIMPLY EAR-RESISTIBLE.

Celebrate life's special moments with Lazare Diamond earrings.

Available exclusively in Iowa City at...

THE LAZARE DIAMOND
The world's most beautiful diamond

HANDS JEWELERS
SINCE 1848

HANCHER

Taryn Kaschock Russell
Director
Hubbard Street 2

Glenn Edgerton
Artistic Director
Hubbard Street Dance Chicago

Jason D. Palmquist
Executive Director
Hubbard Street Dance Chicago

THE DANCERS

ALICIA DELGADILLO
NICHOLAS KORKOS
EMILIE LIBERCHE
FELICIA McBRIDE
JOHNNY MCMILLAN

HS2 APPRENTICES
JUSTIN RONALD MOCK
LISSA SMITH
ANDREW WRIGHT

Kristen Brogden
General Manager
Ishane Devas
Company Manager

Andy Brown
Production Manager
Matt Miller
Lighting Director

This program is partially supported by a City Arts Program 4 Grant from the City of Chicago Department of Cultural Affairs, the National Endowment for the Arts, and a grant from the Illinois Arts Council, a state agency.

Additional Hancher support from the Hancher Partners and the National Endowment for the Arts.

Iowa Center for the Arts
The University of Iowa
Simply ear-resistible.

Celebrate life's special moments with Lazare Diamond earrings.
Available exclusively in Iowa City at...

THE LAZARE DIAMOND
The world's most beautiful diamond

HANDS JEWELERS
SINCE 1886

Taryn Kaschlock Russell
Director
Hubbard Street 2

Glenn Edgerton
Artistic Director
Hubbard Street Dance Chicago

Jason D. Palmquist
Executive Director
Hubbard Street Dance Chicago

THE DANCERS
ALICIA DELGADILLO
NICHOLAS KORKOS
EMILIE LERICA
FELICIA MOBRIE
JOHNNY MCMILLAN

HS2 APPRENTICES
JUSTIN RONALD MOCK
LISSA SMITH
ANDREW WRIGHT

Kristen Brogdon
General Manager
Isahnee DeVas
Company Manager

Andy Brown
Production Manager
Matt Miller
Lighting Director

This program is partially supported by a City Arts Program 4 Grant from the City of Chicago Department of Cultural Affairs, the National Endowment for the Arts, and a grant from the Illinois Arts Council, a state agency.

Additional Hancher support from the Hancher Partners and the National Endowment for the Arts.

Iowa Center for the Arts
The University of Iowa
never did run smooth
Gabrielle Lamb, Choreographer
Mark Orton, Carla Khlestidi, Tin Hat Trio, Rob Burger, Music
Matt Miller, Lighting Design
Rebecca Shouse, Costume Design

Alicia Delgado
Felicia McBride
Emilie Leriche

never did run smooth is an exploration of the movement potential and imagery that stems from human and animal locomotion and gait. Inspired by the chronophotography of French physiologist Etienne-Jules Marey, Lamb adeptly melds this vision with movement generated by the individual stories of the dancers and the misunderstandings that happen between people.

Created for and premiered by Hubbard Street 2 on October 28, 2010 at the Alberta Bair Theatre in Billings, Montana as part of the National Choreographic Competition. Music by Tin Hat Trio. From the albums Book of Silk (Ropeadope Records) and The Sad Machinery of Spring (Han筱/Blak/Pykodic). "The Comet" composed by Mark Orton; published by Camp Watertown Music and "Pablo Looks Back" composed by Carla Khlestidi; published by Broca’s Fold. Music by Rob Burger; "Falling Spaniels," from the album City of Strangers as recorded by Tzadik Records, and "Linguist for Latvia" from the album Lost Photograph.

Pause

... and other stories of imperfection
Alice Kock, Choreographer
Clint Mansell, Music
Matt Miller, Lighting Design
Alice Kock, Costume Design

Emilie Leriche

Created for and premiered by Hubbard Street 2 on June 17, 2011 as part of Hubbard Street’s Inside/Out Choreographic Workshop.

Pause

PACO PEPE PLUTO
Alejandro Cerrudo, Choreographer
Dean Martin, Music
Matt Miller, Lighting Design
Rebecca Shouse, Costume Design

Nick Korkos
Johnny McMillan
Andrew Wright

Created for and premiered by Hubbard Street Dance Chicago on June 17, 2011 as part of Hubbard Street’s Inside/Out Choreographic Workshop.

Intermission

nessuno
Dominic Walsh, Choreographer
Various Artists, Music
Rebecca Shouse, Costume Design
Matt Miller, Lighting Design

Alicia Delgado
Felicia McBride
Emilie Leriche

Nessuno is a work that travels through three chapters, each representing the non-sequential states of being when one discovers a place of belonging. “I think of the first like a sort of divinity of placement in a time and location and how one would fit into that environment,” notes Walsh. Walsh continues, “The second represents a kind of joy, youth, and playfulness within that discovered place, and the third continues the journey of maturation, fullness of one’s self and this is represented in the elegance and intricacy of the movement and music.”

Created for and premiered by Hubbard Street 2 at Theatre am Ring, Saarlouis, Germany. Music by Elliot Gold: “Pange Lingua.” Music by Mike: “Nessuno” from the album Tutto Mio: Le Orin, as released by Carosello Records. Music by Antonio Viviani: “Concerto No. 143 in B major for violin and strings “In due cor”: Andante” from the soundtrack Io Non Ho Paura.

Pause

Untitled
Edgar Zendejas, Choreographer
Matt Miller, Lighting Design
Rebecca Shouse, Costume Design

Emilie Leriche

Created for and premiered by Hubbard Street 2 with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra on May 6, 2011.

Pause

New Work
World Premieres
Clebí Oliveira, Choreographer
Matt Miller, Lighting Design
Rebecca Shouse, Costume Design

The development of Clebí Oliveira’s new work was supported in part by Hancher Auditorium, The University of Iowa.

Created for and premiered by Hubbard Street 2 at Space Place Theater in Iowa City, Iowa on September 22, 2011.
Program

never did run smooth
Gabrielle Lamb, Choreographer
Mark Orton, Carla Kihlistedt, Tin Hat Trio, Rob Burger, Music
Matt Miller, Lighting Design
Rebecca Shouse, Costume Design

Alicia Delgado | Nick Korkos
Felicia McBridge | Johnny McMillan
Emille Leriche | Andrew Wright

never did run smooth is an exploration of the movement potential and imagery that stems from human and animal locomotion and gait. Inspired by the chronophotography of French physiologist Etienne-Jules Marey, Lamb adroitly melds this vision with movement generated by the individual stories of the dancers and the misunderstandings that happen between people.

Created for and premiered by Hubbard Street 2 on October 26, 2010 at the Alberta Bair Theatre in Billings, Montana as part of the National Choreographic Competition. Music by: Tin Hat Trio. From the album Book of Silk (Ropeadope Records) and The Sad Machinery of Spring (Harnibal/Prykodicl) "The Comet" composed by Mark Orton; published by Camp Watertown Music and "Pablo Looks Back" composed by Carla Kihlistedt; published by Broca’s Fold. Music by Rob Burger: "Falling Spaniels," from the album City of Strangers as recorded by Tzadik Records, and "Linguist for Latvia" from the album Lost Photograph.

Pause

... and other stories of imperfection
Alice Klock, Choreographer
Clint Mansell, Music
Matt Miller, Lighting Design
Alice Klock, Costume Design

Emille Leriche | Nick Korkos

Created for and premiered by Hubbard Street 2 on June 17, 2011 as part of Hubbard Street's Inside/Out Choreographic Workshop.

Pause

PACOPEPEPLUTO
Alejandro Cerrudo, Choreographer
Dean Martin, Music
Matt Miller, Lighting Design
Rebecca Shouse, Costume Design

Nick Korkos | Johnny McMillan | Andrew Wright

Created for and premiered by Hubbard Street Dance Chicago on June 17, 2011 as part of Hubbard Street’s Inside/Out Choreographic Workshop.

Intermission

nessuno
Dominic Walsh, Choreographer
Various Artists, Music
Rebecca Shouse, Costume Design
Matt Miller, Lighting Design

Alicia Delgado | Nick Korkos
Felicia McBridge | Johnny McMillan
Emille Leriche | Andrew Wright

Nessuno is a work that travels through three chapters, each representing the non-sequential states of being when one discovers a place of belonging. “I think of the first like a sort of divinity of placement in a time and location and how one would fit into that environment,” notes Walsh. Walsh continues, “The second represents a kind of joy, youth, and playfulness within that discovered place, and the third continues the journey of maturation, fullness of one’s self and this is represented in the elegance and intricacy of the movement and music.”

Pause

Untitled
Edgar Zendejas, Choreographer
Matt Miller, Lighting Design
Rebecca Shouse, Costume Design

Emille Leriche | Johnny McMillan

Created for and premiered by Hubbard Street 2 with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra on May 6, 2011.

Pause

New Work
World Premiere
Clébio Oliveira, Choreographer
Matt Miller, Lighting Design
Rebecca Shouse, Costume Design

The development of Clébio Oliveira’s new work was supported in part by Hancher Auditorium, The University of Iowa.

Created for and premiered by Hubbard Street 2 at Space Place Theater in Iowa City, Iowa on September 22, 2011.
HISTORY

HUBBARD STREET 2

The core purpose of Hubbard Street Dance Chicago is to bring artists, art, and audiences together to enrich, engage, educate, transform, and change lives through the experience of dance. Hubbard Street, under the artistic direction of Glenn Edgerton, celebrates 34 years as one of the most original forces in contemporary dance. Critically acclaimed for its exuberant, athletic, and innovative repertory, the company presents performances that inspire, challenge, and engage audiences worldwide. Hubbard Street is one of the country’s most important contemporary dance companies and holds a unique place within the American dance field.

Hubbard Street Dance Chicago encompasses a vast array of techniques and forms, as well as an understanding of abstract artistry and the emotional nuances of movement. While many contemporary dance peers are single choreographer organizations, Hubbard Street has always been a repertory company, representing numerous choreographers and styles. The company in its entirety has grown to be recognized as a leader in the creation and development of new choreography, unique collaborations, and innovative production concepts. Its importance is based both as a repository of works from some of the 20th and 21st century's best contemporary choreographers and as a commissioning agent of new works, having commissioned and presented almost 200 new and acquired dance works throughout its history.

Hubbard Street Dance Chicago grew out of the Lou Conte Dance Studio, when in 1977 dance teacher/ choreographer Lou Conte was approached to teach tap classes by several aspiring young artists. At the time, the studio was located at the corner of LaSalle Street and Hubbard Street, which is how the company acquired its name. Within a decade of its beginning it began to attract nationally known choreographers to create works for Hubbard Street. Conte served the company for 23 years, during which he developed relationships with emerging and world-renowned choreographers including Lynne Taylor-Corbett, Margo Sappington, Daniel Ezralow, Nacho Duato, Jiri Kylian, and Twyla Tharp, all of whom helped shape Hubbard Street's repertory into what it is today.

In 2000 Jim Vincent stepped into the role of Artistic Director. Vincent worked to further expand the company's programming, repertoire, and acclaim, while also building a legacy of new choreographic development. Vincent introduced initiatives that have become staples of Hubbard Street's programming including the "Inside Out" Choreography Workshop, during which Hubbard Street dancers create original choreography for their peers; and the Choreographic Fellowship, which identifies and develops emerging choreographic talent from within the company. Dancers Alejandro Cerrudo and Robyn Miniko Williams, as well as Artistic Associate Terence Marling have all developed works for the company. In 2011, dancer Penny Saunders will be choreographing a work for HS2 through the National Choreographic Competition.

The 2008-09 season marked the beginning of a new era for Hubbard Street Dance Chicago. By presenting four distinct programs throughout the year at the Harris Theater for Music and Dance in Millennium Park, Hubbard Street has deepened patron relationships and furthered its investment in the cultural life of Chicago. In 2009, then Associate Artistic Director Glenn Edgerton stepped into the role of Artistic Director. Soon after, he named Alejandro Cerrudo Hubbard Street's first Resident Choreographer who has now created four new works for the company. In 2011-12 season, Cerrudo will create two more works for the company. Edgerton's dynamic artistic vision for creating new works and strengthening the company's repertoire while cultivating and deepening relationships with collaborative partners has fast become a reality. Since becoming Artistic Director, Edgerton has secured new works by Master and notable choreographers including Jiri Kylian, Nacho Duato, William Forsythe, Twyla Tharp, Ohad Naharin, Victor Gujilder, Azuer Beron, and Sharon Eyal.

One of Hubbard Street's many missions is to cultivate collaborative partnerships with Chicago's most significant cultural and community organizations. Since 2000, partnerships have been established with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, the Chicago Symphony Chorale, and the Joffrey Ballet, the Joffrey Ballet School of Architecture, re-imagining the space in which dance is performed; and Rush University Medical Center, which helped establish the HSDC Parkinson's Project, using contemporary dance techniques to improve mobility and quality of life for participants.

Hubbard Street Dance Chicago serves an emblem of the city's international cultural profile and continues its role as a leader in the field of dance, pushing the art forward by creating new works, studying repertoire, and cultivating the next generation of dancers and choreographers.

Main Company

Today, the main company is comprised of 17 dancers who display unparalleled versatility and virtuosity. One of the only American dance companies to operate year-round, Hubbard Street continues to produce bold and passionate performances - in Chicago, at national and international celebrated dance venues, and through some of the most cutting-edge dance programs at prestigious universities around the country. Hubbard Street is always changing and evolving while maintaining the highest artistic standards.

Hubbard Street 2 (HS2) was formed in 1997 to prepare dancers ages 18-25 for the life of a professional dancer in a contemporary company. HS2 provides talented young dancers with a chance to develop their professional experience, fast becoming dynamic and bold dancers. The company's vibrant environment gives dancers the experiences necessary to develop social technique and an individual voice. HS2 dancers are sent to and participating in many of the city's most interesting and fearless dancing. Under the direction of Taryn Kaschrook Russell, HS2's six dancers perform and tour to critical acclaim at venues around the world. To date, fifteen HS2 dancers have advanced to the main company and many more have joined other national and international companies. Annually, HS2 hosts the National Choreographic Competition, which gives three emerging choreographers chosen from hundreds of applicants an opportunity to realize their artistic expression on the dancers of the second company. Almost 30 new works have been created for HS2 as part of the National Choreographic Competition.

Lou Conte Dance Studio

Under the direction of Claire Baillie, one of the four original Hubbard Street dancers, LCDS attracts aspiring dancers from around the nation and dance enthusiasts in the Chicago area. Named "Best Dance Class for Adults" by Chicago magazine, LCDS offers a wide variety of weekly classes in ballet, jazz, modern, tap, African, hip hop, yoga, Pilates and Zumba® at all levels from basic to professional, as well as workshops and master classes. As part of its commitment to providing quality training for the community, LCDS maintains a scholarship program for advanced dancers that provide a definitive step into the professional dance world. Additionally, Hubbard Street now offers a Summer Intensive, which provides concentrated training in ballet and modern technique classes, repertoire rehearsals, dance history lectures and health and wellness presentations to professional dancers from across the nation. With a faculty of experienced performers, choreographers and musicians from the Chicago community and an exceptional facility, LCDS continues to be at the forefront of the nation's training institutions.

Education & Community Programs

Hubbard Street Education & Community Programs were formed in 1997 in order to offer movement-based arts experiences to students, teachers and families throughout the Chicago area, giving them opportunities to experience and participate in dance activities and to enhance their learning in other curricular areas. These programs, under the direction of Kathryn Humphreys, bring students from many levels of dance actively engaging them in perception, research, reflection and discussion, assisting them in strengthening basic proficiencies to develop analytical and abstract thinking, interpretation and problem-solving skills. Hubbard Street's partnerships with schools provide teaching artists and educators the opportunity to plan, teach and learn together to create exciting and meaningful integrated curriculums which challenges students and takes learning to new levels. Hubbard Street also offers family workshops and youth dance programs through its community partnerships at locations throughout the city and at the Hubbard Street Dance Center.
HISTORY

HUBBARD STREET 2

The core purpose of Hubbard Street Dance Chicago is to bring artists, art, and audiences together to enrich, engage, educate, transform, and change lives through the experience of dance. Hubbard Street, under the artistic direction of Glenn Edgerton, celebrates 34 years as one of the most original forces in contemporary dance. Critically acclaimed for its exuberant, athletic, and innovative repertoire, the company presents performances that inspire, challenge, and engage audiences worldwide. Hubbard Street is one of the country's most important contemporary dance companies and holds a unique place within the American dance field.

Hubbard Street Dance Chicago encompasses a vast array of techniques and forms, as well as an understanding of abstract artistry and the emotional nuances of movement. While many contemporary dance peers are single choreographer organizations, Hubbard Street has always been a repertory company, representing numerous choreographers and styles. The company in its entirety has grown to be recognized as a leader in the creation and development of new choreography, unique collaborations, and innovative production concepts. Its importance is based both as a repository of works from some of the 20th and 21st century's best contemporary choreographers and as a commissioning agent of new works, having commissioned and presented almost 200 new and acquired dance works throughout its history.

Hubbard Street Dance Chicago grew out of the Lou Conte Dance Studio, when in 1977 dance teacher/choreographer Lou Conte was approached to teach tap classes by several aspiring young artists. At the time, the studio was located at the corner of LaSalle Street and Hubbard Street, which is how the company acquired its name. Within a decade of its beginning it began to attract nationally known choreographers to create dances for Hubbard Street. Conte served the company for 23 years, during which he developed relationships with emerging and world-renowned choreographers including Lynne Taylor-Corbett, Maggie Cappington, Daniel Ezralow, Nacho Duato, Jiri Kylian, and Twyla Tharp, all of whom helped shape Hubbard Street’s repertoire into what it is today.

In 2000 Jim Vincent stepped into the role of Artistic Director. Vincent worked to further expand the company’s programming, repertoire, and acclaim, while also building a legacy of new choreographic development. Vincent introduced initiatives that have become staples of Hubbard Street's programming including the "Inside/Out" Choreography Workshop, during which Hubbard Street dancers create original choreography for their peers; and the Choreographic Fellowship, which identifies and develops emerging choreographic talent from within the company. Dancers Aleksandar Cemoro and Robyn Mineko Williams, as well as Artistic Associate Terence Marling have all developed works for the company. In 2011, dancer Penny Saunders will be choreographing a work for HS2 through the National Choreographic Competition.

The 2008-09 season marked the beginning of a new era for Hubbard Street Dance Chicago. By presenting five distinct programs throughout the year at the Harris Theater for Music and Dance in Millennium Park, Hubbard Street has deepened patron relationships and furthered its investment in the cultural life of Chicago. In 2009, then Associate Artistic Director Glenn Edgerton stepped into the role as Artistic Director. Soon after, he named Alejandro Cerrudo Hubbard Street's first Resident Choreographer who has now created five works for the company. In 2011-12 season, Cerrudo will create two more works for the company. Edgerton's dynamic artistic vision for creating new works and strengthening the company's repertoire while cultivating and deepening relationships with collaborative partners has fast become a reality. Since becoming Artistic Director, Edgerton has secured new works by Master and notable choreographers including Jiri Kylian, Nacho Duato, William Forsythe, Twyla Tharp, Ohad Naharin, Victor Guedj, Aszure Berston, and Sharon Eyal.

One of Hubbard Street's many missions is to cultivate collaborative partnerships with Chicago's most significant cultural and community organizations. Since 2000, partnerships have been established with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, School of the Art Institute of Chicago, producing dance works within art exhibits and free information sessions to the public to explore the vital connection between dance and art; and the School of the Art Institute of Chicago and the School of Architecture, re-imagining the space in which dance is performed; and Rush University Medical Center, which helped establish the HSDC Parkinson's Project, using contemporary dance techniques to improve quality of life for participants.

Hubbard Street Dance Chicago serves as an emblem of the city's international cultural profile and continues its role as a leader in the field of dance, pushing the art forward by creating new works, working with other companies, and cultivating the next generation of dancers and choreographers.

Main Company

Today, the main company is comprised of 17 dancers who display unparalleled versatility and virtuosity. One of the only American dance companies to operate year-round, Hubbard Street continues to produce bold and passionate performances - in Chicago, at national and international celebrated dance venues, and through some of the most cutting-edge dance programs at prestigious universities across the country. Hubbard Street is always changing and evolving while maintaining the highest artistic standards.

Hubbard Street 2 (HS2) was formed in 1997 to prepare dancers ages 18-25 for the life of a professional dancer in a contemporary company. HS2 provides talented young dancers with a chance to develop their professional experience, fast becoming dynamic and bold dancers. The company's vibrant environment gives dancers the experiences necessary to develop strong technique and an individual voice. HS2 dancers are sent out for performances, and fearless dancing. Under the direction of Taryn Keschook Russell, HS2's six dancers perform and tour to critical acclaim at venues around the world. To date, fifteen HS2 dancers have advanced to the main company and many more have joined other national and international companies. Annually, HS2 hosts the National Choreographic Competition, which gives three emerging choreographers chosen from hundreds of applicants the opportunity to realize their artistic expression on the dancers of the second company. Almost 30 new works have been created for HS2 as part of the National Choreographic Competition.

Lou Conte Dance Studio

Under the direction of Claire Baiteille, one of the founder's of Hubbard Street dancers, LCDS attracts aspiring dancers from around the nation and dance enthusiasts in the Chicago area. Named "Best Dance Class for Adults" by Chicago magazine, LCDS offers a wide variety of weekly classes in ballet, jazz, modern, tap, African, hip hop, yoga, Pilates and Zumba® at all levels from basic to professional, as well as workshops and master classes. As part of its commitment to providing quality training for the community, LCDS maintains a scholarship program for advanced dancers that provides a definitive step into the professional dance world. Additionally, Hubbard Street now offers a Summer Intensive, which provides concentrated training in ballet and modern technique classes, repertoire rehearsals, dance history lectures and health and wellness presentations to pre-professional dancers from across the nation. With a faculty of experienced performers, choreographers and musicians from the Chicago community and an exceptional faculty, LCDS continues to be at the forefront of the nation's training institutions.

Education & Community Programs

Hubbard Street’s Education & Community Programs were formed in 1997 in order to offer movement-based arts experiences to students, teachers and families throughout the Chicago area, giving them opportunities to experience and participate in dance activities and to enhance their learning in other curricular areas. These programs, under the direction of Kathryn Humphreys, bring students from all levels of dance actively engaging them in perception, research, reflection and discussion, assisting them in strengthening basic proficiencies to develop analytical and abstract thinking, interpretation and problem-solving skills. Hubbard Street’s partnerships with schools provide teaching artists and educators the opportunity to plan, teach and learn together to create exciting and meaningful educational curriculums which challenges students and takes learning to new levels. Hubbard Street also offers family workshops and youth dance programs through its community partnerships at locations throughout the city and at the Hubbard Street Dance Center.

Education & Community Programs

Hubbard Street’s Education & Community Programs were formed in 1997 in order to offer movement-based arts experiences to students, teachers and families throughout the Chicago area, giving them opportunities to experience and participate in dance activities and to enhance their learning in other curricular areas. These programs, under the direction of Kathryn Humphreys, bring students from all levels of dance actively engaging them in perception, research, reflection and discussion, assisting them in strengthening basic proficiencies to develop analytical and abstract thinking, interpretation and problem-solving skills. Hubbard Street’s partnerships with schools provide teaching artists and educators the opportunity to plan, teach and learn together to create exciting and meaningful educational curriculums which challenges students and takes learning to new levels. Hubbard Street also offers family workshops and youth dance programs through its community partnerships at locations throughout the city and at the Hubbard Street Dance Center.
TARYN KASCHOCK RUSSELL (Director, HS2 and Artistic Associate) was born in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania. She joined the Joffrey Ballet in 1992, after seven years performing and touring extensively with the company. During that time, she expanded her artistry by dancing the principal roles in classical works by Agnes DeMille, George Balanchine, Martha Graham and John Cranko. She was also the first woman outside of David Parsons company to dance his signature solo Caugh. Kaschock Russell joined Hubbard Street Dance Chicago in 2002 and the following January was named one of Dance Magazine’s “25 to Watch.” Her repertoire, while dancing with Hubbard Street, included master works by Jiri Kylian, Nacho Duato, William Forsythe and Ohad Naharin. Kaschock Russell found much growth and inspiration participating in numerous original creations while a member of the company. In 2007, she became a member of Hubbard Street’s artistic staff and began teaching company class, conducting rehearsals and re-setting choreography. Named Director of Hubbard Street 2 in 2008, she also coordinates Hubbard Street’s National Choreographic Competition. In 2010 Kaschock Russell conceived and directed the critically acclaimed Hubbard Street 2 family program Harold and the Purple Crayon: A Dance Adventure.

JASON D. PALMOUST (Executive Director) joined Hubbard Street Dance Chicago in May 2007, after serving the arts community in Washington, D.C. for nearly 15 years. Palmoust began his career at the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts, completing his tenure there as vice president of dance administration. At the Kennedy Center, he oversaw multiple world-premiere engagements of commissioned works in dance, the formation and growth of the Suzanne Farrell Ballet and the inception in 1997 of the Millennium Stage – an award-winning, free daily performance series that to date has served more than 3 million patrons. Deeply enriching the Kennedy Center’s artistic programming, he successfully presented engagements with many of the world’s most important dance companies including the Royal Ballet, Alvin Ailey American Dance Theatre, the Kirov Ballet, Paul Taylor Dance Company, American Ballet Theatre and New York City Ballet. Palmoust also managed the Kennedy Center’s television initiatives, including the creation of the Mark Twain Prize for American Humor and a prime-time special on NBC memorializing the first anniversary of the September 11 attacks. In 2004, he accepted the position of executive director of the Washington Ballet. Under his leadership, the company presented full performance seasons annually at the Kennedy Center and the Warner Theater, and nurtured its world-renowned school and extensive education and outreach programs. A graduate of the University of Northern Iowa, Palmoust currently serves on the boards of the Arts Alliance of Illinois and the Harris Theater for Music and Dance.

GLENN EDGERTON (Artistic Director) joined Hubbard Street Dance Chicago after an international career as a dancer and director. He began his dancing career at The Joffrey Ballet where, mentored by Robert Joffrey, he performed leading roles in the company’s contemporary and classical repertoire for 11 years. In 1985, Edgerton joined the acclaimed Nederlands Dans Theater, and after dancing for five years retired from performing to become artistic director of the main company, leading NDT1 for a decade and presenting the works of Jiri Kylian, Hans van Manen, William Forsythe, Ohad Naharin, Mats Ek, Nacho Duato, Jorma Elo, Johan Inge, Paul Lightfoot and Sol Leon, among others. From 2006 to 2008, he directed The Colburn Dance Institute at The Colburn School of Performing Arts in Los Angeles. Glen joined Hubbard Street’s artistic leadership team full-time as associate artistic director in 2008. Since 2009, Edgerton has also served as artistic director, building on more than three decades of artistic leadership from both Lou Conte and Jim Vincent, whose extraordinary work has established the company as a leader in dance performance, education and appreciation.

KRISTEN BROGDN (General Manager) joined Hubbard Street Dance Chicago in July 2007, after nine years at the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in Washington, D.C., where she first worked with Hubbard Street Executive Director Jason Palmoust. During her tenure at the Kennedy Center, Brogdon was responsible for programming the facility’s unparalleled ballet and contemporary dance season. She managed The Suzanne Farrell Ballet from its inception in 2001 and was instrumental in the creation and growth of the Metro D.C. Dance Awards as well. She also created and produced a commissioning program for local choreographers, facilitating work by 20 artists from D.C., Maryland and Virginia. Prior to the Kennedy Center, she was the company manager and publicist for Li Chiao-Ping Dance, a modern dance company based in Madison, Wisconsin. Brogdon holds a Masters of Arts in Business with a concentration in Arts Administration from the University of Wisconsin and a Bachelor of Arts in Economics from Duke University.

TERENCE MARLING (Artistic Associate and Rehearsal Director) from Chicago, Illinois, began his ballet training in 1982 at the Ruth Page School of Dance under the direction of Larry Long. In 1994, he joined the Pittsburgh Ballet Theatre and also began his teaching career under Patricia Wilde, performing works by George Balanchine, Glen Tetley, Paul Taylor, Jiri Kylian, Ohad Naharin, Kevin O’Day, and Dwight Rhoden as well as many full length classical ballets. In 2003 Terence was invited to join the National Theatre Mannheim in Germany under the direction of Kevin O’Day where he participated in the creation of many new works. Marling joined Hubbard Street Dance Chicago in April of 2006 and danced with the company until December of 2009. He participated in the creation of new works with Jorma Elo, Toru Shimazaki, Jim Vincent, Lucas Carnall and Alejandro Cerruda, and danced works by Susan Marshall, Nacho Duato, Ohad Naharin, Margarite Donlon, Jiri Kylian, and others. Marling became artistic associate and rehearsal director for Hubbard Street in January of 2010.

ALICIA DELGADILLO (Charlotte, NC) was born in San Francisco, CA. She received her training in the Royal Academy of Dance and Cechetti style of ballet under the tutelage of Susan Haywood. After moving to Charlotte, NC she continued her studies with Gay Porter and Bridget Porter Young at the Charlotte School of Ballet. In 2004, Delgadillo began studying full time with Daniel and Rebecca Wiley at Piedmont School of Music and Dance. She has attended summer programs with Hubbard Street Dance Chicago, Edgerton School, San Francisco Conservatory of Dance, and Springboard Danse Montreal. Most recently, Delgadillo had the opportunity to perform with Alvin Ailey American Dance Theatre in Alvin Ailey’s Memoirs. Currently, she is finishing her degree in dance with the Ailey/Fordham BFA Program where she has performed works by Sidra Bell, Jennifer Muller, and Camille A. Brown. Delgadillo joined Hubbard Street 2 in August 2011.

FELICIA MCBRIDE (San Antonio, TX) began her ballet training under the direction of Julie Morton Simpson in San Antonio, Texas. She attended summer programs at Houston Ballet, Chataqua Ballet, Tuls Ballet and Ballet Austin. After spending her senior year as a trainee with North Carolina Dance Theater she danced with Ballet Austin 2 for one season. In 2009 McBride joined Dominic Walsh Dance Theater (DWDT) where she performed works by Jiri Kylian, Mats Ek, Mauro Bigonzetti, Vaclav Kunes and Dominic Walsh. After two seasons with DWDT, McBride joined Hubbard Street 2 in August 2011.

JOHNNY MCCOMIL (Sault Ste. Marie, ON) began his training in Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario at age 12. He graduated from Interlochen Arts Academy receiving the young artist's award in dance. He has attended summer programs at the San Francisco Conservatory, Bartholin International Ballet Seminar and TARYN KASCHOCK RUSSELL (Director, HS2 and Artistic Associate) was born in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania. She joined the Joffrey Ballet in 1992 and after seven years performing and touring extensively with the company. During that time, she expanded her artistry by dancing the principal roles in classic works by Agnes DeMille, George Balanchine, Martha Graham and John Cranko. She was also the first woman outside of David Parsons company to dance his signature solo Caugh. Kaschock Russell joined Hubbard Street Dance Chicago in 2002 and the following January was named one of Dance Magazine’s “25 to Watch.” Her repertoire, while dancing with Hubbard Street, included master works by Jiri Kylian, Nacho Duato, William Forsythe and Ohad Naharin. Kaschock Russell found much growth and inspiration participating in numerous original creations while a member of the company. In 2007, she became a member of Hubbard Street’s artistic staff and began teaching company class, conducting rehearsals and re-setting choreography. Named Director of Hubbard Street 2 in 2008, she also coordinates Hubbard Street’s National Choreographic Competition. In 2010 Kaschock Russell conceived and directed the critically acclaimed Hubbard Street 2 family program Harlem and The Purple Crayon: A Dance Adventure.

JASON D. PALMQUIST (Executive Director) joined Hubbard Street Dance Chicago in May 2007, after serving the arts community in Washington, D.C. for nearly 15 years. Palmquist began his career at the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts, completing his tenure there as vice president of dance administration. At the Kennedy Center, he oversaw multiple world-premiere engagements of commissioned works in dance, the creation and development of the Suzanne Farrell Ballet and the inception in 1997 of the Millennium Stage – an award-winning, free daily performance series that to date has served more than 3 million patrons. Deeply enriching the Kennedy Center’s artistic programming, he successfully presented engagements with many of the world’s most important dance companies including the Royal Ballet, Alvin Alley American Dance Theatre, the Kirov Ballet, Paul Taylor Dance Company, American Ballet Theatre and New York City Ballet. Palmquist also managed the Kennedy Center’s television initiatives, including the creation of the Mark Twain Prize for American Humor and a prime-time special on NBC memorializing the first anniversary of the September 11 attacks. In 2004, he accepted the position of executive director of the Washington Ballet. Under his leadership, the company presented full performance seasons annually at the Kennedy Center and the Warner Theater, and nurtured its world- renowned school and extensive education and outreach programs. A graduate of the University of Northern Iowa, Palmquist currently serves on the boards of the Arts Alliance of Illinois and the Harris Theater for Music and Dance.

GLENN EDGERTON (Artistic Director) joined Hubbard Street Dance Chicago after an international career as a dancer and director. He began his dancing career at The Joffrey Ballet where, mentored by Robert Joffrey, he performed leading roles in the company’s contemporary and classical repertoire for 11 years. In 1988, Edgerton joined the acclaimed Nederlands Dans Theater, and after dancing for five years retired from performing to become artistic director of the main company, leading NOT I for a decade and presenting the works of Jiri Kylian, Hans van Manen, William Forsythe, Ohad Naharin, Mats Ek, Nacho Duato, Jorma Elo, Johan Inger, Paul Lightfoot and Sul Leon, among others. From 2006 to 2008, he directed The Colburn Dance Institute at The Colburn School of Performing Arts in Los Angeles. Glenn joined Hubbard Street’s artistic leadership team full-time as associate artistic director in 2008. Since 2009, Edgerton has also continued forward as artistic director, building on more than three decades of artistic leadership from both Lou Conte and Jim Vincent, whose extraordinary work has established the company as a leader in dance performance, education and appreciation.

KRISTEN BROGDON (General Manager) joined Hubbard Street Dance Chicago in July 2007, after nine years at the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in Washington, D.C., where she first worked with Hubbard Street Executive Director Jason Palmquist. During her tenure at the Kennedy Center, Brogdon was also creating for programming the facility’s unparalleled ballet and contemporary dance season. She managed The Suzanne Farrell Ballet from its inception in September 2001 and was instrumental in the creation and growth of the Metro D.C. Dance Awards and Coalitions. She also formed and produced a commissioning program for local choreographers, facilitating work by 20 artists from D.C., Maryland and Virginia. Prior to the Kennedy Center, she was the company manager and publicist for Li Chiao-Ping Dance, a modern dance company based in Madison, Wisconsin. Brogdon holds a Masters of Arts in Business with a concentration in Arts Administration from the University of Wisconsin and a Bachelor of Arts in Economics from Duke University.

TERENCE MARLING (Artistic Associate and Rehearsal Director), from Chicago, Illinois, began his ballet training in 1982 at the Ruth Page School of Dance under the direction of Larry Long. In 1994, he joined the Pittsburgh Ballet Theatre and went on to the American Ballet Theatre directed by Patricia Wilde, performing works by George Balanchine, Glen Tetley, Paul Taylor, Jiri Kylian, Ohad Naharin, Kevin O’Day, and Dwight Rhoden as well as many full length classical ballets. In 2003 Terence was invited to join the National Theatre Mannheim in Germany under the direction of Kevin O’Day where he participated in the creation of many new works. Marling joined Hubbard Street Dance Chicago in April of 2006 and danced with the company until December of 2009. He participated in the creation of new works with Jorma Elo, Toru Shimazaki, Jim Vincent, Lucas Crandall and Alejandro Cerroda, and danced works by Susan Marshall, Nacho Duato, Ohad Naharin, Margarite Donlon, Jiri Kylian, and others. Marling became artistic associate and rehearsal director for Hubbard Street in January of 2010.

ALICIA DELGADILLO (Charlotte, NC) was born in San Francisco, CA. She received her training in the Royal Academy of Dance and Cechetti Style of ballet under the tutelage of Susan Hayward. After moving to Charlotte, NC she continued her studies with Gay Porter and Bridget Porter Young at the Charlotte School of Ballet. In 2004, Delgadillo began studying full time with Daniel and Rebecca Wiley at Piedmont School of Music and Dance. She has attended summer programs with Hubbard Street Dance Chicago, Alvin Alley American Dance Theatre, San Francisco Conservatory of Dance, and Springboard Danse Montreal. Most recently Delgadillo had the opportunity to perform with Alvin Alley American Dance Theatre in Alvin Ailey’s Memory. Currently, she is finishing her degree in dance with the Alvy/Fordham BFA Program where she has performed works by Sidra Bell, Jennifer Muller, and Camille A. Brown. Delgadillo joined Hubbard Street 2 in August 2011.

FELICIA MCBRIDE (San Antonio, TX) began her ballet training under the direction of Julie Morton Simpson in San Antonio, Texas. She attended summer programs at Houston Ballet, Chataqua Ballet, Tulas Ballet and Ballet Austin. After spending her senior year as a trainee with North Carolina Dance Theater she danced with Ballet Austin 2 for one season. In 2009 McBride joined Dominic Walsh Dance Theater (DWDT) where she performed works by Jiri Kylian, Mats Ek, Mauro Bigonzetti, Vlaet Kunes and Dominick Walsh. After two seasons with DWDT, McBride joined Hubbard Street 2 in August 2011.

JOHNNY MCCRARY (Sault Ste. Marie, ON) began his training in Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario at age 12. He graduated from Interlochen Arts Academy, receiving the young artists’ award in dance. He has attended summer programs at the San Francisco Conservatory, Ballettinh International Seminar and
ANDREW WRIGHT (Burlington, ON) began his dance training at the age of eight. He has attended summer intensives with Hubbard Street Dance Chicago and River North Chicago Dance Company. He also attended Springboard Danse Montréal where he worked with Les Ballets Jazz de Montréal and Batshawa Dance Company performing repertoire by Azuré Barton and Chahd Naharin. He is currently pursuing his BFA in dance at Point Park University where he received the “Rising Star in Dance” award and has performed works by Gerald Arpino, Trey McIntyre, Toru Shimazaki, and Kaelea Larina. Wright joined Hubbard Street 2 as an apprentice in August 2011 and plans on finishing his degree in December 2011 while performing with the company.

THE STAFF

ADMINISTRATION
Stacey Dietz / Associate Director of Finance
Karin Provost / Manager of Pre-Professional Programs
Krista Eisenhofer / Accounting/Operations Clerk
Marisa Santiago / Touring Coordinator
Tienan Demas / Artistic Administration Intern
Quinlan Ky-Johnson / Videographer Intern

EXTERNAL AFFAIRS
Bill Melamed / Director of External Affairs
Sharon Barry / Associate Director of Development
Stacey Riechert / Associate Director of Marketing
Colin Borck / Individual Giving Manager
Kahlen Dickerson / Manager of Institutional Grants
Paula Petrie Lynch / Manager of Special Events
Farnah Williams / Manager of Communications
Brian Barao / Marketing Coordinator
Lisa Heyden / Ticketing and Patron Services Associate Jannie Wasilewski / Development Assistant
Lindsey Decker / Development Intern

EDUCATION & COMMUNITY PROGRAMS
Kathryn Humphreys / Director of Education & Community Programs
Snead Kimbrell / Associate Director of Education
Sarah McCarty / Education Manager
Kristen Gurbach Johnson / Community Programs Coordinator
Cheryl Dwellings / Lead FBI Teaching Artist

WARDROBE STAFF
Rebecca Shouse / Wardrobe Supervisor
Bianitiria Ivanova / Draper
Carol Miller / Draper
Nathan Rohrer / First Hand

SPECIAL SERVICES
Chapman and Cutler, LLP / Bond Counsel
Donald I. Resnick, Jenner & Block / Legal Counsel

A Hubbard Street intensive offers an object lesson in admiration for U1 dance grad

by Sarah Gonsiorowski

I experienced feelings of admiration in varying degrees and for unconventional oddities. Unfortunatley, some were so extreme that my parents-most likely inherited the blame for some of the things I told my friends—who then told their parents. Things like, “I want to be just like Julia Roberts in Pretty Woman when I grow up,” which needless to say, didn’t go over so well.

When I was eight, I admired intelec—and wanted to be thought of as genius, like Thomas Edison or Joanna Gutenberg, for obvious reasons—so I checked out a book about the history of Maryland (which I pronounced “Mary-land!”) from my Catholic school’s library and pretended to like and understand it. Bland, historical writing was the key to success, right? For a brief moment during my adolescence I thought, “Maybe books could be my thing,” which as it turns out—years later—they actually are. I did, after all, have previous experience as a basement librarian, loaning books to my mother on the afternoons she folded laundry—and to Sally, my invisible sister, who was three years younger than me and had an affinity for doing exactly what I told her. When I began to age and sixth grade rolled around, I found myself reading nine whole pages of Timeline by Michael Crichton and learning about schizophrenia.

pondered Voltaire’s Candide—and like all good active readers—I chose to look up the words I didn’t understand. When I had returned the book to the library, every third word from chapter one was circled. It was as far as I’d gotten on that ambitious and masochistic journey, and I still couldn’t tell you what the book is about. Not even chapter one.

Then I admired Tiger Woods and Pete Sampson. So, I challenged my friends to consecutive games of miniature golf and bought a tennis racket. My parents put up with it, and probably because these delusions were harmless distractions, preventing me from learning about other things like drugs, stealing, and the truth about sugar substitutes. I admired my sister’s shoe collection, Camelina, and the peculiarity of my childhood friends all having attractive older brothers (I couldn’t wrap my mind around it). And then a few years later, the gates of heaven were accidentally left unlocked, and my guardian angel escaped, flew down to lighten the screws of that tiny little light bulb above my head, and teach me a thing or two about admiration. We had a brief conversation about role models, and suddenly I began to feel embarrassed about the whole Tiger Woods thing.

In approximately one month, I will turn twenty-three. And like most of my friends who have passed this milestone, I will cry briefly. Things have changed since mine and Sally’s librarian days—naturally, she went from being in charge of re-alphabetizing the “returns” to nonexistent—but my new experiences with “admiration” seem less backwards and more...inside-out. But not in the “put your t-shirt on in the dark” sort of way.

It’s mid-July, and I’m at the Hubbard Street Dance Chicago Summer...
Hubbard Street. He has worked with Gleech Dances under the direction of Julia Glech and was awarded 1st place at the 2010 American Ballet Competition in both the classical and contemporary divisions. He has performed roles in ballets such as Arthur Saint-Léon’s Coppélia, August Bournonville’s La Sylphide and Frederick Ashton’s Les Patineurs; as well as works by Randy Duncan, Patrick Corbin, Kim Roberts and Hannah Baumgarten. McMillan joined Hubbard Street 2 as an apprentice in September 2010 and became a full company member in August 2011.

JUSTIN RONALD MOCK (Pittsburg, PA) began his dance training at age 17 at The Lincoln Park Performing Arts Charter School. He has participated in summer dance programs at Hubbard Street Dance Chicago, Lou Conte Dance Studio and American Ballet Theatre. He received his B.A. from Point Park University in 2011, where he first became acquainted with Hubbard Street’s repertoire while dancing Bardo by Toru Shimazaki. Mock joined Hubbard Street 2 as an apprentice in August 2011.

ANDREW WRIGHT (Burlington, ON) began his dance training at the age of eight. He has attended summer intensives with Hubbard Street Dance Chicago and River North Chicago Dance Company. He also attended Springboard Danse Montréal where he worked with Les Ballets Jazz de Montréal and Batshova Dance Company performing repertoire by Azure Barton and Ghad Naharin. He is currently pursuing his BFA in dance at Point Park University where he received the “Rising Star in Dance” award and has performed works by Gerald Arpino, Trey McIntyre, Toru Shimazaki, and Kaehta Lakena. Wright joined Hubbard Street 2 as an apprentice in August 2011 and plans on finishing his degree in December 2011 while performing with the company.

THE STAFF

ADMINISTRATION
Stacey Deit / Associate Director of Finance
Karine Provost / Manager of Pre-Professional Programs
Krista Ellensohn / Accounting/Operations Clerk
Marisa Santiago / Touring Coordinator
Tianan Demas / Artistic Administration Intern
Quinlan Kyp-Johnson / Videographer Intern

EXTERNAL AFFAIRS
Bill Melamed / Director of External Affairs
Sharon Barry / Associate Director of Development
Stacey Riecht / Associate Director of Marketing
Colin Borch / Individual Giving Manager
Karena Dickerson / Manager of Institutional Grants
Paula Petri Lynch / Manager of Special Events
Farrah Williams / Manager of Communications
Brian Barano / Marketing Coordinator
Lisa Hayden / Ticketing and Patron Services Associate Jimmie Wilewski / Development Assistant
Lindsey Decker / Development Intern

EDUCATION & COMMUNITY PROGRAMS
Kathryn Humphreys / Director of Education & Community Programs
Snead Kimbell / Associate Director of Education
Sarah McCarty / Education Manager
Krisin Gurbach Johnson / Community Programs Coordinator
Cheryl Ondrick / Lead ESL Teaching Artist

WARDROBE STAFF
Rebecca Houze / Wardrobe Supervisor
Brantina Ivanova / Draper
Carol Miller / Draper
Nathan Rehner / First Hand

SPECIAL SERVICES
Champion and Culler, LLP / Bond Counsel
Donald I. Resnick, Jenner & Block / Legal Counsel

A Hubbard Street intensive offers an object lesson inadmirations for Ul dance grad

Sarah Gonsiorowski

I experienced feelings of admiration in varying degrees and for unconventional oddities. Unfortunately, some were so extreme that my parents most likely inherited the blame for some of the things I told my friends—who then told their parents. Things like, “I want to be just like Julia Roberts in Pretty Woman when I grow up,” which needless to say, didn’t go over so well.

When I was eight, I admired intellect—and wanted to be thought of as genius, like Thomas Edison or Joanna Gentenborg, for obvious reasons—so I checked out a book about the history of Maryland (which I pronounced “Mary-land”) from my Catholic school’s library and pretended to like and understand it. Bland, historical writing was the key to success, right? For a brief moment during my adolescence I thought, “Maybe books could be my thing,” which as it turns out—years later—they actually are. I did, after all, have previous experience as a basement librarian, loaning books to my mother on the afternoons she folded laundry—and to Sally, my invisible sister, who was three years younger than me and had an affinity for doing exactly what I told her to do. When I began to age and sixth grade rolled around, I found myself reading nine whole pages of Timeline by Michael Crichton and learning about schizophrenia. I pondered Voltair’s Candide—and like all good active readers—I chose to look up the words I didn’t understand. When I had returned the book to the library, every third word from chapter one was circled. It was as far as I’d gotten on that ambitious and masochistic journey, and I still couldn’t tell you what the book is about. Not even chapter one.

Then I admired Tiger Woods and Pete Sampras. So, I challenged my friends to consecutive games of miniature golf and bought a tennis racket. My parents put up with it, and probably because these delusions were harmless distractions, preventing me from learning about other things like drugs, stealing, and the truth about sugar substitutes. I admired my sister’s shoe collection, Celine Dion, and the peculiarity of my childhood friends all having attractive older brothers (I couldn’t wrap my mind around it). And then a few years later, the gates of heaven were accidentally left unlocked, and my guardian angel escaped, flew down to lighten the screws of that tiny little light bulb above my head, and taught me a thing or two about admiration. We had a brief conversation about role models, and suddenly I began to feel embarrassed about the whole Tiger Woods thing.

In approximately one month, I will turn twenty-three. And like most of my friends who have passed this milestone, I will cry briefly. Things have changed since mine and Sally’s librarian days—naturally, she went from being in charge of re-alphabetizing the “returns to nonexistent—but my new experiences with “admiration” seem less backwards and more...inside out. But not in the “put your t-shirt on in the dark” sort of way.

It’s mid-July, and I’m at the Hubbard Street Dance Chicago Summer continued on page 12
Intensive, where I take class daily from either company members or the artistic staff, and sneak my way into the “staff only” lunchroom during my one-hour breaks. I share a toilet with women who have danced for Jiri Kylian and Sharon Eyal, and take a nap on the floor of their dressing room long enough to dream of how I’d decorate my locker if they offered me a contract. These artists are not gods or goddesses. They’re better! These are real people—humble and talented—and they have the job with the company that most of us dream of having. But what makes me like them even more is that I know this whole “dance thing” is not a walk in the park. A barefoot hike up a mile-high mound of venomous porcupines? That’s probably more like it. And each of them did it beautifully. And now they dance for HSDC.

So realizing I have multiple opportunities to talk to them about career choices, transitions, and the weather, I do the exact opposite. In the presence of my role models—for the entire month—I can manage is a smile. A head nod. Because the sort of admiration I have for these people is one so sincere that it scours away the supposed adult, fluent in conversation and well-trained in proper social practices, and instead encourages the emergence of the wide-eyed, awe-striuk toddler from my nostalgic youth, which ultimately dictates the way I spend the remainder of my summer: at the barre, of course, feeling lucky, eager, and paralyzed at the same time, knowing quite well that one of the other dancers in the room with me will spend next season dancing with these artists... and probably laughing at the same jokes in the lunchroom I eventually got kicked out of.

Company divisions are usually clear: Trainee, Apprentice, Corp, Soloist, and Principal. But Hubbard Street is different; it’s only real distinction being a number “2” to signify that the second company is its own entity. However, because of its progressivity and collectiveness, I tend to envision HSDC as one big, dynamic family; no harsh division—artistic staff and interns included. And I’m comfortable having that as my fantasy. We all had questions for Artist Director Glen Etgerton, like “What does it take to be in the company?” and round-about ways of asking, “Will you maybe, consider, think about, want to, ponder hiring me... maybe?” but what I remember distinctly was his confidence and assertiveness in discussing hiring tendencies. Some companies are obvious about no guarantees beyond a two-year contract as a trainee, and others are sneakier about it, lying to dancers about their potential. But Etgerton is neither of these things. To be frank, he’s just plain honest.

Both Etgerton and Karine Provoost, Manager of Pre-Professional Programs, put together the HSDC Summer Intensive approximately four years ago, and while it is meant to challenge dancers and promote artistic growth, it is also an opportunity for showcasing talent—it’s how some dancers get hired. Of course there is no rule stating that Hubbard Street 2 dancers must be selected from the intensive, but it feels wrong to say that they’re not. So unlike other places, H2S reality is stepping-stone for achieving work with the company. HSDC and H2S dancers encompass a particular aesthetic: they have strong ballet technique, a powerful movement quality, and perhaps most importantly, an open mind. “No ego,” said Etgerton during the intensive’s career talk, “The whole point is to evolve.”

He also added (and no, I’m not making this up...I took notes), “Pretty dancing... I’m not interested in it. Pretty dancing is superficial.” In speaking specifically about H2S and promotion into the company, he admitted to it being circumstantial. Auditions will always be posted on the website—and only if positions are available. He commented on Tayn Russell’s honesty and her willingness to let H2S dancers know after two or three years if they do, in fact, have a possible future with HSDC. When hearing this aloud, I felt like I could hug him, because even though I didn’t work for the man, it was obvious that he takes care of his dancers—and respects the ones who dance elsewhere.

So yes, if HSDC asked for my hand in marriage, I’d say “I do” in as many languages as possible to avoid any misconceptions. And if I haven’t already made it clear, my feelings are not solely dependent upon a so-called finished product. I like that the HSDC family values are not about “what you look like,” but rather about “what you project.” It’s what makes their performance authentic... and exciting! I was sure all the math would be over after my sophomore year statistics class, but now I’m counting candles like never before, one eye shut hoping a few of them magically disappear. At twenty-something, we’re expected to idolize the legacy of the Audrey Hepburns or the successes of Woody Allen, but what if barges give me acne and I’m not cut out for a Manhattan murder mystery... or an affair? I’m interested in connectivity! Which is why it’s entirely possible that my big, foam finger reads “HS2!” I feel like the contemporary dance version of a preseason football fanatic: Yes, I’ve got my picks ready for the fantasy league and the big screen alternating between SportsCenter and whatever pro-game is on the next three hours, but college ball—my metaphorical HS2—is where my loyalties lie and my heart resides. And it’s for one simple reason: they’ve got heart. They’ve got potential, a desire for experience, and a much smaller paycheck (if any)—and that’s what can relate to.

For the first time in years, I wasn’t allowed to return to school this fall (because they didn’t let you do that once you’ve graduated), and so far it’s turned out okay... because my career in dance is beginning. Just beginning. This is an exhilarating time, especially for HS2 dancers because it signifies their closeness to an outstanding company, and dancers like myself—colleagues of a kind—couldn’t be more excited for them. And why? Well, because it feels good to admire someone who’s embarking upon a journey so similar to our own. And it is only then that admiration begins to feel truly ageless.

Sarah Gonislawski is a Hancher Marketing Intern. The staff would gladly keep her around, even though she graduated.

PREVIEW

Turning Up the Kaleidoscope Factor:

The National Acrobats of the People’s Republic of China

Wednesday, 19 July, 7:30 pm / Englert Theatre

by Amy Dalkoff

ike jumping down the rabbit hole, the start of a performance by the National Acrobats of the People’s Republic of China transports you to another world. When these performers take the stage, they seem to turn off the gravity and turn up the kaleidoscope factor, bringing new meaning to the word entertainment with an attention-holding, death-defying, seemingly impossible set.

Since their founding in 1950 by the Government of the People’s Republic of China, the National Acrobats have combined thousands of years of traditional Chinese folk art with modern-day dazzle for an art form like none other. The National Acrobats mix agile and impressive movement with the traditional use of household dishes as props. Couple this act with beautiful and exotic traditional Chinese music and costumes, and an eye-popping, breathtaking, wonderous performance is born.

Beyond the acrobatics Americans are accustomed to seeing at the circus, the National Acrobats feature something for everyone in the audience. For those who appreciate the fast-paced martial arts, the National Acrobats incorporate this traditional discipline into their performances, upping the action and drama. If you prefer something more classical, traditional Chinese dance is infused amongst the stunts and daring feats. And then there is theatricality, showmanship, and pure talent to capture the attention of even the most skeptical audience member. This visual spectacle will amaze people of all ages.

For tickets, call the Hancher Box Office at 319-335-1160 or 1-800-HANCHER, or order online at www.hancher.uiowa.edu.

Amy Dalkoff is a senior UI Communications Studies and English major, and a member of the Hancher Marketing Intern team.
Intensive, where I take class daily from either company members or the artistic staff, and sneak my way into the "staff only" luncheon during my one-hour break. I share a toilet with women who have danced for Jiri Kylian and Sharon Eyal, and take a nap on the floor of their dressing room long enough to dream how I'd decorate my locker if they offered me a contract. These artists are not gods or goddesses. They're better! These are real people—humble and talented—and they have the job with the company that most of us dream of having. But what makes me like them even more is that I know this whole "dance thing" is no walk in the park. A barefoot like up a mile-high mound of venomous porcupines? That's probably more like it. And each of them did it beautifully. And now they dance for HSIC.

So realizing I have multiple opportunities to talk to them about career choices, transitions, and the weather, I do the exact opposite. In the presence of my role models—for the entire month—I can manage is a smile. A head nod. Because the sort of admiration I have for these people is one so sincere that it scares away the supposed adult, fluent in conversation and well-trained in proper social practices—but instead encourages the emergence of the wide-eyed, awe-struck toddler from my nostalgic youth, which ultimately dictates the way I spend the remainder of my summer: at the barre, of course, feeling lucky, eager, and paralyzed at the same time, knowing all too well that one of the other dancers in the room with me will spend next season dancing with these artists... and probably laughing at the same jokes in the lunchroom I eventually got kicked out of.

Company divisions are usually clear: Trainee, Apprentice, Corp, Soloist, and Principal. But Hubbard Street is different; it's only real distinction being a number "7" to signify that the second company is its own entity. However, because of its progressivity and collectiveness, I tend to envision HSIC as one big, dynamic family; no harsh division—artistic staff and interns included. And I'm comfortable having that as my fantasy. We all had questions for Artistic Director Glen Eidgerton, like "What does it take to be in the company?" and round-about ways of asking, "Will you maybe, consider, think about, want to, ponder hiring me... maybe?" But what I remember distinctly was his confidence and assertiveness in discussing hiring tendencies. Some companies are obvious about no guarantees beyond a two-year contract as a trainee, and others are sneaker about it, lying to dancers about their potential. But Eidgerton is neither of these things. To be frank, he's just plain honest.

Both Eidgerton and Karine Provost, Manager of Pre-Professional Programs, put together the HSIC Summer Intensive approximately four years ago, and while it is meant to challenge dancers and promote artistic growth, it is also an opportunity for showcasing talent—it's how some dancers get hired. Of course there is no rule stating that Hubbard Street 2 dancers must be selected from the intensive, but it feels wrong to say that they're not. So unlike other places, H2S2 really is a stepping-stone for achieving work with the company. H2SIC and HSIC dancers encompass a particular aesthetic: they have strong ballet technique, a powerful movement quality, and perhaps most importantly, an open mind. "No ego," said Eidgerton during the intensive's career talk, "The whole point is to evolve.

He also added (and no, I'm not making this up... I took notes!), "Pretty dancing... I'm not interested in it. Pretty dancing is superficial. In speaking specifically about HS2 and promotion into the company, he admitted to it being circuitous. Auditions will always be posted on the website—and only if positions are available. He commented on Tayn Russell's honesty and her willingness to let HS2 dancers know after two or three years if they do, in fact, have a possible future with HSIC. When hearing this aloud, I felt like I could hug him, because even though I didn't work for the man, it was obvious that he takes care of his dancers—and respects the ones who dance elsewhere.

So yes, if HSIC asked for my hand in marriage, I'd say "do" as many languages as possible to avoid any misconceptions. And if I haven't already made it clear, my feelings are not solely dependent upon a so-called finished product. I like that the HSIC family values are not about "what you look like," but rather about "what you project." It's what makes their performance authentic... and excelling! I was sure all the math would be over after my sophomore year statistics class, but now I'm counting candles like never before, one eye shut hoping a few of them magically disappear. At twenty-something, we're expected to idolize the legacy of the Audrey Hepburns or the successes of Woody Allen, but what if barges give me acne and I'm not cut out for a Manhattan murder mystery... or an affair? I'm interested in connectivity! Which is why it's entirely possible that my big, foam finger reads "HSIC"! I feel like the contemporary dance version of a pre-season football fanatic; Yes, I've got my picks ready for the fantasy league and the big screen alternating between SportsCenter and whatever pro-game is on the next through. And college ball—my metaphorical HS2—is where my loyalties lie and my heart resides. And it's for one simple reason: they've got heart. They've got potential, a desire for experience, and a much smaller paycheck (if any)—and that's what I relate to.

For the first time in years, I wasn't allowed to return to school this fall (because they didn't let you do that once you've graduated), and so far it's turned out okay... because my career in dance is beginning. Just beginning. This is an exhilarating time, especially for HS2 dancers because it signifies their closeness to an outstanding company, and dancers like myself—colleagues of a kind—couldn't be more excited for them. And why? Well, because it feels good to admire someone who's embarking upon a journey so similar to our own. And it is only then that admiration begins to feel truly ageless.

Sarah Gonsiorowski is a Hancher Marketing Intern. The staff would gladly keep her around, even though she graduated.

PREVIEW

Turning Up the Kaleidoscope Factor:

The National Acrobats of the People's Republic of China

Wednesday, April 17, 9:30 pm / Englert Theatre

by Amy Dalkoff

Like jumping down the rabbit hole, the start of a performance by the National Acrobats of the People's Republic of China transports you to another world. When these performers take the stage, they seem to turn off the gravity and turn up the kaleidoscope factor, bringing new meaning to the word entertainment with an attention-holding, death-defying, seemingly impossible set.

Since their founding in 1950 by the Government of the People's Republic of China, the National Acrobats have combined thousands of years of traditional Chinese folk art with modern-day dazzle for an art form like none other. The National Acrobats mix agile and impressive movement with the traditional use of household dishes as props. Couple this act with beautiful and exotic traditional Chinese music and costumes, and an eye-popping, breathtaking, wondrous performance is born.

Beyond the acrobatics Americans are accustomed to seeing at the circus, the National Acrobats feature something for everyone in the audience. For those who appreciate the fast-paced martial arts, the National Acrobats incorporate this traditional discipline into their performances, upping the action and drama. If you prefer something more classical, traditional Chinese dance is infused amongst the stunts and daring feats. And then there is theatricalism, showmanship, and pure talent to capture the attention of even the most exacting audience member. This visual spectacle will amaze people of all ages.

For tickets, call the Hancher Box Office at 319-335-1160 or 1-800-HANCHER, or order online at www.hancher.uiowa.edu. •

Amy Dalkoff is a senior UI Communications Studies and English major, and a member of the Hancher Marketing Intern team.
Hancher Partners are helping us build the future

The Hancher Partners know that Hancher has always been more than a building. Their support provides the building blocks that underpin all of Hancher’s world-class programming—in our original facility, during this “controllable” period, and in our future home.

We hope you’ll join us in thanking these generous supporters who make it possible for us to connect great artists with great audiences.

Thanks to these loyal partners:

Anonymous Donor
Anonymous Family Foundation
Carolyn Brown and Gerald Zimmerman
Hancher Alumni Student Group
Hancher Guild
Heartland in Iowa City/Coralville
Hills Bank and Trust Company
Iowa Memorial Union
Schools
The Gazette and KCRG
Ben and Dorothy Willie

To find out how you or your business can become a Hancher Partner, contact:

Chuck Swanson
Executive Director
Hancher
(319) 335-1133 or (800) HANCHER
Email: charles-swanson@uiowa.edu

The University of Iowa Foundation
www.uifoundation.org/hancher
Hancher Partners are helping us build the future

The Hancher Partners know that Hancher has always been more than a building. Their support provides the building blocks that underpin all of Hancher’s world-class programming—in our original facility, during this “uncontainable” period, and in our future home.

We hope you’ll join us in thanking these generous supporters who make it possible for us to connect great artists with great audiences.

Thanks to these loyal partners:
Anonymous Donor
Anonymous Family Foundation
Carolyn Brown and Gerald Zimmerman
Hancher Alumni Student Group
Hancher Guild
Heartland in Iowa City/Coralville
Hills Bank and Trust Company
Iowa Memorial Union
Scheels
The Gazette and KCRG
Ben and Dorothy Willie

To find out how you or your business can become a Hancher Partner, contact:
Chuck Swanson
Executive Director
Hancher
(319) 335-1133 or (800) HANCHER
Email: charles.swanson@uiowa.edu

The University of Iowa Foundation
www.uifoundation.org/hancher

Victoria West
Steve West
West Music Company

Charlie Funk
MidwestOne Bank
Judith Hurzig
Richard Hurzig
W. Richard Sumnorwill
Joyce Sumnorwill

Pat Heiden
Oaknoll Retirement Residence
George Griley
Barbara Griley
Gary A. Wicklund
J. Donna K. Wicklund
Jr.
Laura L. Fajardo
Jill H. Morris, M.D.
Frank H. Morris, Jr., M.D.
Pat Gauron

John F. Holmes
Ruthann Holmes
Pamela Willard
Derek Willard
Mary Jo Stanley
Richard Stanley

Aubrey Leavenworth
Lyse Emmad, M.D.
Tom Leavenworth, M.D.
Beau Leavenworth

Sandy Halstad
Janice Wilson
Herbert Wilson
Sara Wolfson
Sherwood Wolfson
Elise Densen
Peter Densen
Betty Winokur

Kevin Monson
Tim Schroeder
Dwight Dobborstein
Kim McDonald
Nunnally Monson Architects
Deborah Bullion
Ian Bullion
Andrea Birt
Judy Schultz
Kristin Schultz
Ralph Schultz Family Foundation
Can’t contain us!
Connecting great artists with great audiences around the community and across the state.

Holiday Pops Tour 2011
Fidelity Investments Presents
Boston Pops Esplanade Orchestra
Keith Lockhart, conductor
Rockapella, featured guests
Sunday, November 27, 7 pm
Carver–Hawkeye Arena

Order online at www.hancher.uiowa.edu
Or call 319/335-1160 or 1-800-HANCHER
TDD and access services: 319/335-1158

www.hancher.uiowa.edu

the art of business
a guide to hancher’s playbill advertisers

Hands Jewelers 2
Toyota–Scion of Iowa City 22
University of Iowa Hospitals and Clinics 23
Hertleen and Stocker Jewelers 24
Melrose Meadows 25
Alan Swanson, Blank & McCune 25
McDonald Optical 25
Java House 26
The Mansion 27
Iowa Book 27
Reck Violin Shop 27
University of Iowa Community Credit Union 28
Wolf Eye Clinic 28
Rita T. Marcus, Blank & McCune 28
r.s.v.p. 28
RIVERSIDE THEATRE 28
American Airlines 29
University of Iowa Museum of Art 29
KCCI 30
Iowa City Landscaping and Garden Center 31
KCRG-TV 31
Orchestra Iowa 31
Iowa City/Coralville Area Convention and Visitors Bureau 31
Des Moines Metro Opera 32
West Music 32
Iowa Public Radio 33
Coralville Center for the Performing Arts 34
Prairie Lights 34
Bachmeier Interiors 34
Summer of the Arts 35
Jodie J. Fredericks, Coldwell Banker 36
Design Ranch 36
Cedar Rapids Dermatology 36
University of Iowa Department of Dance 37
Preucll School of Music 38
Hills Bank and Trust Company 38
Oaknoll 39
m.c. ginsberg 40

This event is supported by ACT, Inc., Riverside Casino & Golf Resort, John and Sue Strauss, Herbert A. and Janice A. Wilson, and the Hancher Patrons. Media support has been provided by The Gazette and KCOR.
The Art of Business

A Guide to Hancher's Playbill Advertisers

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Advertiser</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Hands Jewelers</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Toyota-Scion of Iowa City</td>
<td>22</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>University of Iowa Hospitals and Clinics</td>
<td>23</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hertleen and Stocker Jewelers</td>
<td>24</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Melrose Meadows</td>
<td>25</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Alan Swanson, Blank &amp; McCune</td>
<td>25</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>McDonald Optical</td>
<td>25</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Java House</td>
<td>26</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Mansion</td>
<td>27</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Iowa Book</td>
<td>27</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rocke Violin Shop</td>
<td>27</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>University of Iowa Community Credit Union</td>
<td>28</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wolf Eye Clinic</td>
<td>28</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rita T. Marcus, Blank &amp; McCune</td>
<td>28</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>r.s.v.p.</td>
<td>28</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Riverside Theatre</td>
<td>28</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>American Airlines</td>
<td>29</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>University of Iowa Museum of Art</td>
<td>29</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>KCCK</td>
<td>30</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Iowa City Landscaping and Garden Center</td>
<td>31</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>KCOR-TV</td>
<td>31</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Orchestra Iowa</td>
<td>31</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Iowa City/Coralville Area Convention and Visitors Bureau</td>
<td>31</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Des Moines Metro Opera</td>
<td>32</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>West Music</td>
<td>32</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Iowa Public Radio</td>
<td>33</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Coralville Center for the Performing Arts</td>
<td>34</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Prairie Lights</td>
<td>34</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bachmeier Interiors</td>
<td>34</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Summer of the Arts</td>
<td>35</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Jodie J. Fredericks, Coldwell Banker</td>
<td>36</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Design Ranch</td>
<td>36</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cedar Rapids Dermatology</td>
<td>36</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>University of Iowa Department of Dance</td>
<td>37</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Preucil School of Music</td>
<td>38</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hills Bank and Trust Company</td>
<td>38</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Oaknoll</td>
<td>39</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>m.c. ginsberg</td>
<td>40</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Holiday Pops Tour 2011

Fidelity Investments Presents

Boston Pops Esplanade Orchestra
Keith Lockhart, conductor

Rockapella, featured guests

Sunday, November 27, 7 pm

Carver-Hawkeye Arena

Order online at www.hancher.uiowa.edu
Or call 319/335-1160 or 1-800-HANCHER
TDD and access services: 319/335-1156

HANCHER

www.hancher.uiowa.edu

This event is supported by ACT, Inc. Riverboat Casino & Golf Resort, John and Sue Strauss, Herbert A. and Janice A. Wilson, and the Hancher Patrons. Media support has been provided by The Gazette and KGNO.
Enjoy the show!
You deserve it!

When it comes to being healthy, women tend to put others before themselves — their children, spouse, family and friends all come first. But to really care for others, we need to care for ourselves. Whether it’s taking care of your physical health through regular check-ups with your health care provider or protecting your emotional well-being by taking time to pamper yourself or chat with friends — women’s health is critical.

UI Women’s Health is pleased to care for the women who take care of so many of us.

For more ideas to care for the important women in your life, visit uihealthcare.org/womenshealth.
To schedule an appointment, call 319-356-2294.
When it comes to being healthy, women tend to put others before themselves — their children, spouse, family and friends all come first. But to really care for others, we need to care for ourselves. Whether it’s taking care of your physical health through regular check-ups with your health care provider or protecting your emotional well-being by taking time to pamper yourself or chat with friends — women’s health is critical.

UI Women’s Health is pleased to care for the women who take care of so many of us.

For more ideas to care for the important women in your life, visit uihealthcare.org/womenshealth.
To schedule an appointment, call 319-356-2294.
Live for today. Plan for tomorrow.

Today is the day you take an art class.
Today is the day you swim in the indoor pool.
Today is the day you spend time with friends and neighbors.
Today is the day you move to Melrose Meadows Retirement Community.

Whether you are planning for today or for the future, now is your chance to discover what sets Melrose Meadows apart from other retirement communities.

Today is the day you will live life to the fullest!

---

Melrose Meadows
Elegant Independent and Certified Assisted Living
110 Dublin Drive, Iowa City
319-341-7893
www.melrosemeadows.com

---

Her tears are as

HERTEEN & STOCKER
Downtown Jewelers
101 S. Dubuque Iowa City 338-4212

RESULTS.

Expertly assisting area home and condo buyers and sellers, including in:
- The Peninsula Neighborhood
- The end of Foster Road in Iowa City and
- Plaza on Fifth in Coralville.

Alan Swanson, Broker-Associate
319.321.3129 alan-swanson.com

---

CHANEL

Celebrating 55 years

---

McDonald Optical
16 S. Clinton 337-4699
Sycomore Mall 337-3727
Corridor Way Coralville 337-4769
www.mcdonaldoptical.com
Wearing our art on our sleeves—
The Java House and Hancher

JAVA HOUSE BREWING LOCATIONS
211 ½ E WASHINGTON STREET
1575 S. FIRST AVENUE
713 MORMONTREK BLVD
UIHC - CARVER PAVILION
UIHC - GENERAL HOSPITAL
UIHC - POMERANTZ/WEST

WWW.THEJAVAHOUSE.COM
Wearing our art on our sleeves—
The Java House and Hancher

JAVA HOUSE BREWING LOCATIONS

211 ½ E WASHINGTON STREET
1575 S. FIRST AVENUE
713 MORMON TREK BLVD
UIHC - CARVER PAVILION
UIHC - GENERAL HOSPITAL
UIHC - POMERANTZ/WEST

WWW.THEJAVAHOUSE.COM

THE MANSION
WHAT'S YOUR STYLE?
From traditional to modern, to everything in-between. The Mansion’s professional interior design staff can create your style to fit your budget.

CLOCK TOWER PLAZA
1801 2ND ST, SUITE 110
CORALVILLE
319-361-8574

www.reckviolin.com

New DVDs
prices starting at $6.98 of Titles

IOWA BOOK LLC
8 South Clinton St.
Iowa City, Iowa 52240
(319) 337-4188
www.iowabook.com
Your sight
Our vision

For over 90 years, Wolfe Eye Clinic has looked to the future in an effort to provide Iowans with the latest eye-care advancements. By staffing our clinics with highly skilled specialists and investing in new technologies, Wolfe has been the name Iowans turn to first for state-of-the-art medical and surgical eye care. After all, improving your sight has always been our vision.

To find out how Wolfe Eye Clinic can help you get a better focus on the arts, call 800-542-7956 or visit www.wolfeeyeclinic.com.

From the Left:
Tad W. Giel, MD
Contact and Refractive Surgery
LeRoy J. Linton, MD
Contact and Glaucoma
Charles H. Brown, MD
Medical and Surgical Retina
Victorio C. Marcus, MD
Glaucoma and Contacts

IT'S GONNA GET HOT 2011-2012 SEASON

FEET FIRST IN THE WATER WITH A BABY IN MY FEET - Sept 9 - Oct 2, 2011
SMALL MIRACLES - Nov 25 - Dec 2, 2011
GUYS ON ICE: AN ICE FISHING MUSICAL COMEDY - Jan 20 - Feb 19, 2012

www.riversidetheatre.org  •  (319) 338-7672

American Eagle is Proud to support the 2011-2012 Hancher Season.

To find out more about American, visit us at AA.com.

American Airlines, American Eagle and AA.com are marks of American Airlines, Inc. American Eagle is American's regional airline partner. OneWorld is a mark of the oneworld Alliance, LLC.

RITA T. MARCUS
President, University of Iowa Sexual Assault Center of Sexual Assault Services, Inc.

Professionalism...Integrity...Ethics
My Way of Life...My Promise
319.556.6500 - cell
319.335.9440 - office
www.ritanmarcus.com

"The American spirit soars whenever Taylor's dancers dance."
—San Francisco Chronicle

Paul Taylor Dance Company
November 1
HANCHER

American Airlines
American Eagle
Proud Supporters of the Arts

WOLFE EYE CLINIC

Your sight
Our vision

For over 90 years, Wolfe Eye Clinic has looked to the future in an effort to provide Iowans with the latest eye-care advancements. By staffing our clinics with highly skilled specialists and investing in new technologies, Wolfe has been the name Iowans turn to first for state-of-the-art medical and surgical eye care. After all, improving your sight has always been our vision.

To find out how Wolfe Eye Clinic can help you get a better focus on the arts, call 800-542-7956 or visit www.wolfeyeclinic.com.

From the Left:
Ted W. Colvard, MD
Cornea and Refractive Surgery
LeRoy J. Lassen, MD
Cornea and Glaucoma
Charles H. Brown, MD
Medical and Surgical Retina
Barbara C. Maas, MD
Glaucoma and Cornea

IT'S GONNA GET HOT
2011-2012 SEASON

FEET FIRST IN THE WATER WITH A BABY IN MY TEETH: Sept 14 - Oct 2, 2011
SMALL MIRACLES: Nov 25 - 27, 2011
GUYS ON ICE: AN ICE FISHING MUSICAL COMEDY: Jan 20 - Feb 19, 2012

www.riversidetheatre.org • (319) 338-2672

American Eagle is Proud to support the 2011-2012 Hancher Season.

To find out more about American, visit us at AA.com.

American Airlines, American Eagle and AA.com are marks of American Airlines, Inc. American Eagle is American’s regional airline partner. AAdvantage is a mark of the airline-loyalty Alliance, LLC.

RITA T. MARCUS
President, National Council of Women's Club of Iowa 1895
Professionalism…Integrity…Ethics
My Way of Life… My Promise
319.594.5600 — cell
319.354.9440 — office
www.ritatmarcus.com

BLANK & McCUNE
The Real Estate Company

"The American spirit soars whenever Taylor's dancers dance."
—San Francisco Chronicle

Paul Taylor Dance Company
November 1
HANCHER
There's a great jazz station in your pocket.

Download the KCCK app for iPhone or Android and listen to Iowa's Jazz Station right now!

Or listen at WWW.KCCK.ORG
There's a great jazz station in your pocket.

Download the KCCK app for iPhone or Android and listen to Iowa's Jazz Station right now!

Or listen at WWW.KCCK.ORG

---

Where Innovative Ideas Are Always in Bloom

520 Highway 1 W - Iowa City - 337-8351 www.iowacitylandscaping.com

Nursery | Landscape Design | Gifts | Workshops

---

Classical Series
BRUCEMORCHESTRA IV: Crown Imperial
September 10, 2011
Orchestral Showcase: Beethoven 5
September 30 & October 1, 2011
A Baroque Christmas
December 3 & 4, 2011
Fire and Ice
January 21 & 22, 2012
Bruckner 5
February 10 & 11, 2012
St. John Passion
March 24 & 25, 2012
A Slavic Celebration
May 12 & 13, 2012

Popular Series
Simply Sinatra
November 19 & 20, 2011
Radio Holly Days with Five By Design
December 17 & 18, 2011
Good Vibrations: Music of the Beach Boys
May 26, 2012

---

Iowa City Coralville
Area Convention & Visitors Bureau
www.iowacitycoralville.org

No matter what you're looking for, Iowa City, Coralville, and Johnson County are sure to surprise you...
The CVB currently has over 20 Marketing Partners!

Iowa City Coralville Area CVB
900 First Avenue North, Ste. 100
Coralville, IA
319.376.0992
www.iowacitycoralville.org

---

For venues, times, and additional information:
319.366.8203 or 800.366.TUNE (8863)
www.orchestraliowa.org
MUSIC THAT'S BEEN CATCHY FOR 300 YEARS.

Conversations that provoke thought. Stories that reveal the artist's inner secrets. And live performances of the world's greatest music, Iowa's only true Classical station.

Listen with all your heart.

IOWA PUBLIC RADIO
CLASSICAL 91.7 FM
MUSIC THAT'S BEEN CATCHY FOR 300 YEARS.

Conversations that provoke thought. Stories that reveal the artist's inner secrets. And live performances of the world's greatest music, Iowa's only true Classical station.

Listen with all your heart.

IOWA PUBLIC RADIO
CLASSICAL 91.7 FM
Coralville's newest venue for the performing arts is now open!

Just a few upcoming CCPA events:

West Music presents
Pianist Lola Astanova
Sep 24

Walt Whitman Suite
featuring Dan Knight
Oct 16

Cedar Rapids Opera Theatre
Love, Loss, and Hope
Nov 13

Orchestra Iowa presents
A Baroque Christmas
Dec 4

City Circle Acting Company
A Christmas Carol
Dec 9-18

For a complete schedule of events, visit or call:
www.coralvillearts.org
319.248.9370

new from Random House

True Blue: a new young adult novel by Jane Smiley, starring a mysterious dapple gray horse.

Forgotten Affairs of Youth: the eighth installment of the beloved Isabel

Dunbar series. Available Dec 6

Hemingway’s Boat:
Everything He Loved in Life, and Lost 1934-1961:

Paul Hendron’s remarkable contribution to our understanding of this great American writer.

open 9am - 9pm Mon-Sat
open 9am - 6pm Sunday

an Iowa City landmark • downtown Iowa City

BACHMEIER INTERIORS

CABINETRY

CONTACT US

3402 Harpers Ferry Rd. Coralville, IA • 9 • 1 mile west of Coral Ridge Mall on Hwy 9 • 319.337.7944 • www.bachmeierinteriors.com www.summerofthearts.org

319.337-7944 Contact Us

info@summerofthearts.org

TILE

WINDON OVERALL • DESIGN

CONTROL • TILES • VAPORS

INSTALLATION

3402 North Street, Coralville, IA. + 5 mile north of Coral Ridge Mall on Hwy 9. 319.245-5670 • www.bachmeierinteriors.com

BACHMEIER INTERIORS

CABINETRY

CONTACT US
new from Random House

True Blue: a new young adult novel by Jane Smiley, starring a mysterious shapely gay horse.

Prairie Lights
open 9am - 9pm Mon-Sat
open 9am - 6pm Sunday
an Iowa City landmark • downtown Iowa City

For a complete schedule of events, visit or call:
www.coralvillearts.org
319.248.9370
No More Age Spots! No More Spider Veins!

Offering the latest in quick, gentle and safe Cosmetic Laser Procedures.

Also Available:
- Glycolic Acid Peels
- Collagen Injections
- Sclerotherapy of Leg Veins
- Skin Disease & Cancerous Surgery In Children & Adults

Dr. Leslie Kramer
- Board Certified Dermatologist
- Cedar Rapids Dermatology

319-362-3434
411 Tenth Street SE • Cedar Rapids

The University of Iowa
Department of Dance

INFO: http://dance.uiowa.edu
TICKETS: www.hancher.uiowa.edu/tickets

Dance Gala 2011
October 27, 28, 29 @ 6pm and 30-2pm
November 3, 4, 5 @ 6pm and 6-2pm

For more than 30 years UI's Dance Gala has been wowing audiences. Don't miss post-modern dance legend Trisha Brown's restaging of Set and Reset; Reset, along with exciting new works by UI Dance faculty members Alan Sefer, Charlotte Adams, Deanna Carter, Eloy Barragan, and guest choreographer Cleo Oliveira.

Alumni Event
November 11 @ 8pm

Afro-Cuban Drum & Dance Ensemble
November 13 @ 8pm

Collaborative Performance
December 1, 2, 3 @ 8pm

Graduate/Undergraduate Concert
December 8, 9, 10 @ 8pm

Dance Forum/
UI Youth Ballet Winter Concert
December 17 @ 7:30pm and 8pm

Faculty/Graduate Concert
February 16, 17, 18 @ 8pm

Dancers in Company Home Concert
March 1, 2, 3 @ 8pm

Johanna Kirk Thesis
March 6, 10 TBA

Thesis I Candidates
March 29, 30, 31 @ 8pm

Thesis II Candidates
April 12, 13, 14 @ 8pm

Christopher Masters Thesis
April 19-20 TBA

Undergraduate Concert
May 3, 4, 5 @ 8pm

Dance Forum/ UI Youth Ballet Spring Concert
May 15 @ 7:30pm and 15 @ 2pm @ 8pm
2011-2012

Hills Bank and Trust Company
The Hills Bank Way for over 107 years!

COMING TO HANCHER

Hubbard Street 2
Thursday-Friday, September 22-23

Club Hancher - Joey DeFrancisco Trio
Thursday, September 29

Academy of St. Martin in the Fields Chamber Ensemble
Sunday, October 2

National Acrobat of The People's Republic of China
Wednesday, October 19

National Chamber Choir of Ireland
Thursday, October 20

AnDa Union
Thursday, October 27

Paul Taylor Dance Company
Tuesday, November 1

American String Quartet with the Mala String Quartet
Friday, November 18

Boston Pops Esplanade Orchestra with Rockapella
Sunday, November 27

Club Hancher - Catherine Russell
Thursday, December 8

American Beauty Project
Friday, December 9

John Oliver
Saturday, January 28

Stew & The Negro Problem
Thursday, February 2

Chucho Valdés and the Afro-Cuban messengers
Friday, February 10

L.A. Theatre Works: The Rivalry
Thursday, February 23

Tower of Power
Friday, March 2

Los Angeles Guitar Quartet
Tuesday, March 8

Lucky Plush Productions, Punk Yankees
Thursday, March 11

Soweto Gospel Choir
Tuesday, March 27

Dave Pietro
Thursday, April 5

Sean Christopher Lewis
Tuesday, April 19

Enrico String Quartet
Friday, May 4

The Gizmo Guys
Sunday, May 20

www.hancher.uiowa.edu
Tickets online at www.hancher.uiowa.edu
or call 319-335-1190 or 1-800-HANCHER
TDD and access services: 319-335-1158

Healthy & Active
Keeping you healthy and active in your retirement years is our goal. Come share in our vibrant community and leave behind all those extra cares and responsibilities of home ownership so you can enjoy the more important things in life.

Come experience the difference... the LifeCare difference

Call me today for your personal tour
319-351-1720

Oaknoll Retirement Residence
1 Oaknoll Court
Iowa City, IA 52246
www.oaknoll.com
paulm@oaknoll.com
http://www.facebook.com/Oaknoll
An active LifeCare community since 1966
COMING TO HANCHER

2011-2012

Hubbard Street 2
Thursday-Friday, September 22-23
Club Hancher - Joey DeFrancesco Trio
Thursday, September 29
Academy of St. Martin in the Fields Chamber Ensemble
Sunday, October 2
National Acrobats of The People’s Republic of China
Wednesday, October 19
National Chamber Choir of Ireland
Thursday, October 20
An’Da Union
Thursday, October 27
Paul Taylor Dance Company
Tuesday, November 1
American String Quartet with the Mela String Quartet
Friday, November 18
Boston Pops Esplanade Orchestra
with Rockapella
Sunday, November 27
Club Hancher - Catherine Russell
Thursday, December 8
American Beauty Project
Friday, December 9
John Oliver
Saturday, January 28
Stew & The Negro Problem
Thursday, February 2

Chucho Valdés and the Afro-Cuban messengers
Friday, February 10
L.A. Theatre Works: The Rivalry
Thursday, February 23
Tower of Power
Friday, March 2
Los Angeles Guitar Quartet
Tuesday, March 8
Lucky Plush Productions, Funk Yankees
Thursday, March 8
Soweto Gospel Choir
Tuesday, March 27
Dave Pietro
Thursday, April 5
Sean Christopher Lewis
and Working Group Theatre, Mayberry
Friday-Sunday, April 27-29
Enzo String Quartet
Friday, May 4
The Gizmo Guys
Sunday, May 20

www.hancher.uiowa.edu
Tickets online at www.hancher.uiowa.edu or call 319-335-1168 or 1-800-HANCHER
TDD and access services: 319-335-1158

Healthy & Active

Keeping you healthy and active in your retirement years is our goal. Come share in our vibrant community and leave behind all those extra cares and responsibilities of homeownership so you can enjoy the more important things in life.

Come experience the difference... the LifeCare difference

Call me today for your personal tour
319-351-1720

Oaknoll Retirement Residence
1 Oaknoll Court
Iowa City, IA 52246
www.oaknoll.com
pamh@oaknoll.com

Patricia Heiden
Executive Director
MA, Health Services Administration
Licensed Nursing Home Administrator

http://www.facebook.com/Oaknoll

An active LifeCare community since 1966
You never actually own a Patek Philippe.
You merely take care of it for the next generation.